PRESIDENT PREACHES

Forceful Sermon in Tabernacle.

Nation's Chief Executive Addresses Great Salt Lake Audience.

"A Soft Answer Turneth Away Wrath," Is Text for His Lecture.

Puts in Busy Sunday Speaking Several Times and Attending Church.

(Associated Press Night Report)

SALT LAKE, Sept. 26.—In the pulpit of the famous Mormon Tabernacle in this city, where four years ago, Theodore Roosevelt, then the Chief Executive of the nation, preached a long sermon on right living and the duties of good citizenship, President Taft today faced an audience which he told inspired him to try to follow in the footsteps of his predecessor and deliver a preaching.

Mr. Taft did preach a sermon—long and all. The immense audience in the flag-draped edifice, the splendid musical programme of organ and patriotic selections, the enthusiastic cheering as President Taft appeared, and the quiet response of the audience to the points he endeavored to impress upon his hearers inspired him, the President declared, with higher thoughts of country and patriotism.

The President's sermon was an appeal for unity between the people for attributing the best rather than the worst motives to the actions of others when possible to do so, and not to harbor hatred or animosity.

PROVERB AS TEXT.

"A soft answer turneth away wrath, but grievous words kindle wrath."—Proverbs 15:1.

The sermon, with a timely character, largely made up of a relation of stories to give emphasis to the points the President desired to make.

From the Tabernacle the President was driven in review of some 2,000 school children. At one point along the line a thousand or more girls had been arranged in a living flag, red, white and blue, and were singing to outline the national emblem. Then the President proceeded to the Young Men's Christian Association, where he made a brief address to an audience composed entirely of men. Later he went to the LDS church, where he made a brief address to an audience composed entirely of men.

PRESIDENT'S SERMON.

"I thank you from the bottom of my heart," said Mr. Taft, "for this expression of welcome and good will. I have been impressed since coming into this magnificent structure with the thought that you have gathered here in part to hear me, and that I had nothing to address to you worthy of such a magnificent presence."

"I am told that my distinguished predecessor under the inspiration of an audience like this, delivered an address in the nature of a sermon upward of two hours in length. Now,

MR. TAFT ON YALE TEAM.

President to Earn Right to Wear the "V" of Alma Mater.

(By Direct Wire to the Times)

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Sept. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Taft is to win his "Y." Everything else Yale can give him has been showered upon him and Manager Prescott White of the varsity eleven will do the rest. The President made his class crew in Yale but never played football. He is regarded as a regular member of the Yale eleven this fall, because he has been active in planning the season's campaign. He summoned Manager White to the Summer Capital at Beverly and together they went over the eleven's plans. White will present Mr. Taft with his "Y" at the close of the season or with a gold football which the regular players receive in case a championship is won.

The players will try to see that Mr. Taft is able to receive the football on which the words "Champions of 1910" are inscribed.

ELIMINATION
OF DR. COOKPeary Intimates Charges
Will Soon Be Public.Wants to Take Part With Ship in Hudson Parade.Commander Denies That Whitney Is a Factor.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Me.) Sept. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Acting upon sealed orders Capt. Robert Bartlett of the Roosevelt put in at Eagle Island at noon today to send the personal effects of Commander Peary ashore and also to take orders concerning the entry of the Roosevelt in the Hudson-Fulton naval parade. After the arrival of the Roosevelt, Peary declared at Eagle Island this afternoon that if his boat took her position in line in the parade he would be on the bridge.

The commander said further that before he went to New York and took command of the Roosevelt, the Cook controversy would be settled so far as he is concerned.

He meant by this his indictment of Cook would be launched and that Cook would be eliminated as a rival. He is absolutely confident that when his bill of particulars in regard to Cook is spread upon the public record that all who read may reach the conclusion that the Cook controversy is at an end, go upon the bridge of the Roosevelt and drive the ship in the Hudson-Fulton naval parade as the sole discoverer of the North Pole.

QUIBBLING MUST END.

Tomorrow at noon Peary will leave Portland for Bar Harbor to hold a quick consultation with Gen. Thomas Hubbard, president of the Peary Arctic club.

He has decided at last that delay and quibbling over the Cook matter must end; that he must swiftly upon record in substantiation of his charges against Cook.

The arrival of Harry Whitney in Labrador may have a good deal to do with this, though the commander still maintains that Whitney is a factor in the case and that whatever testimony he can give for Cook will be of little value.

The refusal of Commander Peary to allow any of the property of Cook to go aboard the Roosevelt, was merely a logical phase of Peary's attitude toward the Cook contention that he had been to the pole.

Most honest about the Roosevelt this afternoon, admitted that when the Roosevelt got down to Etah, Cook's sledge had been left with every Eskimo in the Etah tribe.

MEMORIAL TALKS.

"Did you talk with any of the twelve Eskimos that Dr. Cook sent from Cape Thomas Hubbard?" Peary was asked.

"Surely he can't say that he sent back twelve Eskimos," replied Hanson, a guide. "If every Eskimo Cook had with him, all since they returned to their igloo at Etah. What they told me concerning the trip north I cannot say at this time. I want to say this, though, that Dr. Cook was a very good man when he was on his last expedition. When he did not know any more about building sledges than my grandmother."

"My sledge I mean the highest type of sledge built. Cook did not have one or know anything about making them. When he was with the chief in 1912-13 he never got any experience on that trip of sea ice or sledge building."

It will be one of the counts in Peary's indictment of Cook that he can not produce snowshoes, sledges or other equipment to show the wear and tear that comes from travel over the Arctic ice.

ALL EXPERIENCES HERE.

HELEN KELLER
TO MAKE FLIGHT.

EXPERIMENT TO TEST SENSES IN AVIATION.

Experiments of deaf, dumb and blind person in flying through air. Expected to show something of psychological and physical aspects of ballooning.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON (Mass.) Sept. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Helen Keller, the deaf, dumb and blind person better fitted to pilot a balloon than a person endowed with all the normal senses?

This is the problem that Charles J. Gifford of Boston will attempt to solve when in the near future he will take up with him for a two-hour flight, Miss Helen Keller, the famous blind woman, who has conquered all the obstacles presented by the lack of sight, hearing and speech.

What Miss Keller's experience may give to be and what sensations she undergoes while drifting among the clouds will to a great extent answer the question that has been raised of late as to the possible effects of atmospheric conditions on the psychology and physical nature of man.

Just what the psychological and physical changes may be in Miss Keller's case are all points that will be given the closest observation. For instance, the increased pressure at high elevations is a common physical accompaniment to ballooning.

For a long time Miss Keller has wondered what this strange new thing of air flights may be, and from her quiet home in Westhampton, where she lives with Mr. and Mrs. John Macy, the latter her life-long instructor and friend, she has followed the records of aviation.

ITALY TO SEND SQUADRON.

FLORENCE (Italy) Sept. 23.—It is understood the Italian government in order to commemorate the measure that Italy considers the inadequate representation of their country at the Hudson-Fulton celebration, will send a squadron of its ships to New York when the monument of Giovanni da Verano, the Florentine navigator, who explored the Hudson River, is erected there.

To Visit San Francisco.

Without seeing the Diamond Palace would be a failure. Calling here without seeing Paris, it is the most beautiful jewel in the crown, in the heart of the world.

count of the new ice which is forming and also the darkness which in that country at times seems impenetrable. Of course I would send for everything if it were possible, but from the way things look now all thoughts of obtaining anything will have to be foregone until next spring.

"You have sent for the Eskimos who accompanied you, have you not, doctor?"

"Yes, but I am unable to say when they will arrive. Probably many months will elapse before they can be brought to the civilized world."

Some one asked him whether he had any cause to believe that Mr. Whitney might favor Commander Peary rather than himself in the North Pole controversy.

"Mr. Whitney will not favor either of us. You can count on whatever Mr. Whitney says. I know him to be square. He will not take the part of either Mr. Peary or myself. He will tell the truth."

When asked what were the relations between him and the man who is claimed to have discovered the pole later than himself, Dr. Cook replied:

"I don't know."

PETS STOP TO QUIZ.

In response to a question as to whether or not he used the same kind of sleds as Commander Peary, Dr. Cook said:

"Peary's sleds were patterned after those used by the Eskimos. If they differed in any way from those made by the natives it was in the wood used. Mr. Peary could not have modeled his sleds after mine for they were of my own make. They were constructed in the far north."

When asked other questions relative to his dash for the pole, Dr. Cook said:

"Gentlemen, don't you think you have gone far enough? What I have not already given out about the trip will soon appear in a New York paper in the story written by me."

Many friends and acquaintances of Dr. Cook and others, several of note, who called upon him today were disappointed. He never could be permitted to see him until after 9 o'clock at night when he talked with the reporters. He remained in his home in the city until 10 o'clock, when he first lecture which will be delivered tomorrow evening, with stereoscopic views, at the Carnegie Lyceum.

WHITNEY'S REPLY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Robert E. Peary refused absolutely to allow any of the records or instruments of Dr. Frederick A. Cook to be brought aboard the steamer Roosevelt, and was thus instrumental in causing the story written by me.

Peary's story, the New Haven sportsman, in a dispatch received in this city by Dr. Cook today.

The message which came as a response to one sent by Dr. Cook, follows:

"STRATHCONA, via Indian Harbor and Cape Ray, N. P., Sept. 23.—Dr. F. A. Cook, Waldorf-Astoria, New York: Started for home, Roosevelt. Nothing arrived for me. Peary would allow nothing belonging to you on board. Said to leave everything in cache at Etah."

"Met Capt. Sam, North Star. Did not go back after going ashore on board St. Johns, take steamer home. Hope you will. See you soon. Reply all. Good shooting."

[Signed]

WHITNEY'S ACCOUNT.

but would trust to my word of honor not to take anything.

"FORCED TO LEAVE ALL."

"I was forced to unpack my trunk and pack the instruments, flag and boxes, of which I did not know the contents, in other boxes and leave them all in the rocks at Etah, where they now are."

"No one on the ship saw Dr. Cook's instruments or knows anything about what kind they are."

"On his return Dr. Cook gave me the sledge which he had used on the entire trip and which he declared had made the longest sledge trip on record."

PEARY'S EXPLANATION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Me.) Sept. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Commander Peary gave a close reading today to Whitney's dispatch of September 23 to the Times, and then dictated the following:

"At Etah on August 17 or 18, after the arrival of the Roosevelt, and after I had invited Mr. Whitney to come on board the Roosevelt with all his belongings and trophies, Whitney told me he had some fox skins, six I think, and some horns which Cook had sent before he could get into a cache at Etah, or leave in charge of the Eskimos for Cook, whichever he thought best. Just before the Roosevelt left Etah he told me that he had personally seen that these things had been left in a cache, and had told the Eskimos that they had been left there for Cook."

"Later I heard the report that the instruments were the ones that Cook had used during his sledge journey, but I gave the report no credence, as I could not conceive of a man leaving instruments of that kind out of his sight or in the hands of a stranger."

"While knowing nothing of the matter, I do not believe that Cook left either his records or his instruments or flags with Whitney. I cannot conceive it possible for a man under the circumstances to have left such precious things out of his sight for an instant. As he carried across Melville Bay to Danish Greenland with three or four sledges and teams of dogs, his instruments, his records and his flags would scarcely have added a feather weight to his load."

MINERS DIE IN TUNNEL.

Rescuers Find One of Three After
Hard Struggle and Conclude
Others Are Lost.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) Sept. 23.—The three miners who were imprisoned by a cave-in at the Combination mine are now believed to be dead as the rescue party broke into the shaft where the accident occurred at 9 o'clock tonight and there found the body of Evan Reese, but could find no trace of W. J. Bertsch and C. M. Matt, who were believed to have taken refuge in the shaft.

Reese's body was unmarked and it is believed that he was suffocated by fumes from the cyanide solution which seeped through the earth from below the shaft.

After the rescue party had explored every portion of the mine that could be reached, without finding the other two men, the search was given up as it is now believed they are imprisoned beneath tons of debris and it may be weeks before their bodies are recovered.

For thirty-six hours the rescue party has worked in four-hour shifts blasting through rock to reach the spot where Reese's body was found.

PORTLAND (Me.) Sept. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Commander Peary gave a close reading today to Whitney's dispatch of September 23 to the Times, and then dictated the following:

"At Etah on August 17 or 18, after the arrival of the Roosevelt, and after I had invited Mr. Whitney to come on board the Roosevelt with all his belongings and trophies, Whitney told me he had some fox skins, six I think, and some horns which Cook had sent before he could get into a cache at Etah, or leave in charge of the Eskimos for Cook, whichever he thought best. Just before the Roosevelt left Etah he told me that he had personally seen that these things had been left in a cache, and had told the Eskimos that they had been left there for Cook."

"Later I heard the report that the instruments were the ones that Cook had used during his sledge journey, but I gave the report no credence, as I could not conceive of a man leaving instruments of that kind out of his sight or in the hands of a stranger."

"While knowing nothing of the matter, I do not believe that Cook left either his records or his instruments or flags with Whitney. I cannot conceive it possible for a man under the circumstances to have left such precious things out of his sight for an instant. As he carried across Melville Bay to Danish Greenland with three or four sledges and teams of dogs, his instruments, his records and his flags would scarcely have added a feather weight to his load."

Rescuers Find One of Three After
Hard Struggle and Conclude
Others Are Lost.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) Sept. 23.—The three miners who were imprisoned by a cave-in at the Combination mine are now believed to be dead as the rescue party broke into the shaft where the accident occurred at 9 o'clock tonight and there found the body of Evan Reese, but could find no trace of W. J. Bertsch and C. M. Matt, who were believed to have taken refuge in the shaft.

Reese's body was unmarked and it is believed that he was suffocated by fumes from the cyanide solution which seeped through the earth from below the shaft.

After the rescue party had explored every portion of the mine that could be reached, without finding the other two men, the search was given up as it is now believed they are imprisoned beneath tons of debris and it may be weeks before their bodies are recovered.

For thirty-six hours the rescue party has worked in four-hour shifts blasting through rock to reach the spot where Reese's body was found.

BIG CROWDS IN GOLDFIELD.

Delegates Pouring in for Week's Convention.

City Makes Elaborate Preparations to Entertain.

Forestry Question of Foremost Interest.

Associated Press Night Report.

Goldfield (Nev.) Sept. 26.—With over six hundred delegates already on the ground and hundreds more on the way, there is every indication tonight that the twelfth annual session of the American Mining Congress which opens tomorrow afternoon will be one of the best gatherings the organization has ever known. It is expected that delegates will be in attendance before the last day is closed.

Goldfield is making elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the delegates. Main street has been strung with electric lights for several blocks and a cordial welcome is extended to the delegates on every side.

The San Francisco Stock Exchange delegation, fifty strong and accompanied by their own band, was the last of the larger bodies to arrive. Among them came several other big delegations, including the representatives of Los Angeles, who are expected tomorrow. Interest in the approaching session centers in the attitude of the delegates on the forestry question of the government. A committee on forestry was organized and is expected to report on the forestry question of the government. A committee on forestry was organized and is expected to report on the forestry question of the government.

The report of the committee on National Forestry Service will be presented on Friday by A. G. Brownlee of Denver, Colo., chairman of the committee and Mr. Dyer, assistant secretary of the committee, will follow.

Second in importance in the eyes of the delegates comes the selection of the best meeting place of the congress. The hotel lobby is expected to be the scene of the selection. The delegates are expected to select the hotel lobby as the best meeting place of the congress.

BRIDEGROOM RETURNS WITH STORY OF BEING ABDUCTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

Portland, Sept. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After being beaten into insensibility and as he says, robbed three days before his wedding, M. J. Madison, proprietor of the Central Hotel at St. John dropped out of sight completely when the day actually came around last Friday. He was not seen again until early this morning when a taxicab whirled up before his hotel and Madison alighted covered with blood, his clothing torn, and staggered inside.

Today, recovering from the state of semi-consciousness in which he had lain since his home-coming, Madison told a weird story of having been dragged in a subterranean way to a dark, cold, and dreary place.

ment of the product sent to the local markets, as well as on post extermination, orchard improvement and shipping.

Growers and shippers were aroused a few weeks ago, when several carloads of peaches and pears were refused distribution in British Columbia and the Northwest because they were wormy. The meeting at Newcastle will call for ways and means whereby the growers and shippers can regain such lost markets and prevent repetitions of the occurrence. Fruit men and shippers from all parts of the State have gathered in the city to express their intention of attending the affair.

The report of the committee on National Forestry Service will be presented on Friday by A. G. Brownlee of Denver, Colo., chairman of the committee and Mr. Dyer, assistant secretary of the committee, will follow.

OFFERS DRINK, IS MURDERED.

Rancher's Son Slain in Cafe by Total Stranger.

Pity for Forlorn Man Costs Monterola's Life.

Prisoner Smiles as Victim's Body Is Carried by.

T. J. Monterola, a young Mexican whose father owns a ranch on Adams street, west of the city limits, was stabbed and killed almost instantly at 8 o'clock last evening by Anselmo Fuentes, another Mexican, who walked up to Monterola and plunged a knife in his breast without a word of provocation, according to the evidence obtained by detectives.

Monterola was with a few friends in the cafe of the Hotel D'Italia, No. 813 S. Fernando street. The young men were in a merry mood. Seeing Fuentes standing gloomily in a corner, Monterola suggested that the crowd buy him a drink, a proposition which was turned down by the other members of the party on the ground that they knew nothing of the stranger.

A little later Monterola was standing with his arms folded, talking with his friends, and all had forgotten the presence of Fuentes until he stepped quietly to a position immediately in front of Monterola. In another second, and without a word, he raised his arm as high as he could, and before his purpose was realized he brought his knife down with all his might, striking the three-inch blade into Monterola's heart.

As Monterola sank lifeless to the floor, his companions pointed upon the murderer, who clung to his knife and fought savagely. He was forced to the floor and was disarmed by Dan Cornejo, a railroad man.

The body of Monterola was sent to the Receiving Hospital and later to an undertaking establishment.

Fuentes, securely handcuffed, was bundled into the wagon beside the corpse. Only once on the trip to the station did he manifest any interest in the condition of the man he had stabbed. This was when Wagon Officer Sweeney was endeavoring to learn if Monterola still lived.

"How is he?" asked Fuentes coolly. "I think he's dead," replied the officer. Fuentes made no comment.

His examination by the detectives at headquarters finished, Fuentes was forced to wait at the door of the fall while the body of his victim was carried to the morgue. He stood calmly at the door of the fall while the body of his victim was carried to the morgue. He stood calmly at the door of the fall while the body of his victim was carried to the morgue.

Fuentes repeatedly admitted having done the stabbing. He said he was punched on the chin by Monterola, but this is denied by witnesses of the affair.

FARMS ATTRACT LABORERS IN CANADIAN REGIONS.

Railway Construction Demoralized by Demand for Agricultural Help and Proposal is Made to Government to Import Orientals for Building New Lines.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] OTTAWA (Ont.) Sept. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Canadian railways are face to face with a labor famine and unless a plan can be devised whereby Asiatic labor may be imported for construction work, much of the railroad building will have to be abandoned. This is the opinion expressed by Collingwood Schreiber, consulting engineer of the Department of Railways.

On the western prairies the demand for farm laborers has temporarily demoralized railway construction gangs, the Grand Trunk Pacific road being especially hard hit. The railways have been able to retain only a small percentage of its laborers employed on construction work, the farmers in that section having offered as high as $1 per day for men while the railway company pays only $3.

In the next two years four new contracts are to be let for construction work and 25,000 men will be needed. Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific, has been consulting Sir Wilfrid Laurier upon the proposal to employ Asiatic labor in building the new lines. It is proposed to bring laborers to Canada and return them to their native countries after the work has been completed.

LST WIFE AND FORTUNE.

Former Wealthy Stove Manufacturer Takes Poison Beside Grave in Churchyard.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] PHILADELPHIA (Pa.) Sept. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Brooding over the death of his wife which had followed closely upon the loss of his fortune, John M. C. Wells, a wealthy stove manufacturer of St. Louis and Kansas City, committed suicide today by drinking carbolic acid at his wife's grave in the churchyard of the Blockley Baptist Church, West Philadelphia.

The body was found this morning. Besides his body was the glass and a bottle marked poison.

Three days ago he secured a position as agent for a stove company. He seemed to feel better until Saturday night when he remarked that he would kill himself, formerly he had borrowed money from most of his friends and that even his trunk was in a storage house and was gone as security.

Prisoner Smiles as Victim's Body Is Carried by.

T. J. Monterola, a young Mexican whose father owns a ranch on Adams street, west of the city limits, was stabbed and killed almost instantly at 8 o'clock last evening by Anselmo Fuentes, another Mexican, who walked up to Monterola and plunged a knife in his breast without a word of provocation, according to the evidence obtained by detectives.

Monterola was with a few friends in the cafe of the Hotel D'Italia, No. 813 S. Fernando street. The young men were in a merry mood. Seeing Fuentes standing gloomily in a corner, Monterola suggested that the crowd buy him a drink, a proposition which was turned down by the other members of the party on the ground that they knew nothing of the stranger.

A Bald, Headed Woman

woman. Who could love and marry a bald-headed woman? What charms could one array to offset such a disadvantage?

A woman's goal is usually love and marriage. Her crowning glory is her hair. The loss of her hair mars her beauty, happiness and success. Yet right here in Los Angeles, there are thousands of women who are neglecting or injuring their hair to such an extent that it is only a matter of time when it will be utterly ruined.

their hair through thoughtlessness or ignorance of certain facts. They use curling irons over-heated, or to excess, which destroys the natural oil of the hair, causing it to split, break and come out. They do not shampoo their hair often enough, or too often. They

As a result of such treatment, dandruff is created, the hair loosens, loses color, falls out, and baldness commences, unless proper and prompt pro-remedy. We have that remedy, and we will positively guarantee that it will either cure dandruff and baldness or it will not cost the user anything. That's a pretty broad statement, but we will back it and prove it with our own money. Rexall "33" Hair tonic is the remedy that will grow hair and overcome all scalp and hair troubles. It will grow hair even on bald heads, unless all life in the hair roots has been extinguished, the follicles closed, and the scalp is glazed and shiny. It gets its name from the fact that it grows hair in 22 out of 100 fact that it grew hair in 99 out of 100 cases, where it received a thoroughly hard, impartial and practical test.

You had better drink this over, and then come in and see us about this offer. You will be well repaid for your visit to our stores. The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Cal.; Seattle, Wash.

AND THINGS OVER THE SEA

For Furness.
The great shipbuilder, who has been passed by in the distribution of the party funds, is showing his disappointment that he would no longer accept a party for his estate in Wiltshire to 20,000 acres. Furness, who is a member of the Liberal party, and perhaps a contributor to the party funds, has been passing up the party funds, when he found that his name was not on the list of donors. He has decided to make any further subscription of the party.

Treasures Strained.
J. Dillon, the distinguished correspondent of the Telegraph at St. Petersburg, in view of his position in the Old World, has been passing up the party funds, when he found that his name was not on the list of donors. He has decided to make any further subscription of the party.

COUNTY LEADS STATE SCHOOLS

Los Angeles Has Record for Daily Attendance.

State Superintendent Gives Interesting Figures.

Comparison With Former Years Shows Growth.

In the statistical report, just issued from the State Printing Office at Sacramento, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Hyatt, it is found that Los Angeles county led every county in the State in the average attendance to its high schools. The average in this county last year was 88.6, while in the State it was 87.2, which was next, was 86.6, and San Francisco was 85.1. The report is interesting, notwithstanding it is strictly statistical.

In his introduction, Superintendent Hyatt says that the figures have been made to go into details, but that the purpose is to give the general public a picture of the progress of the schools.

Running down the list of counties, it appears that Alpine, Butte, Colusa, Del Norte, El Dorado, Fresno, Inyo, Kern, Mono, Nevada, Plumas, Sacramento, Santa Barbara, Sierra, Stanislaus, Tehama, Trinity, Yuba and Yavapai are the counties with the lowest attendance.

The five normal schools located at Chico, Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco and San Jose, have a total teaching force of 138 men and women, last year. The attendance in the normal schools was 88.6, an increase of about 100 over the previous year. The total enrollment of the State fund during 1935 was approximately $2,100,000. The high schools had a total enrollment of 1,000,000, an increase of about 100 over the previous year. The total enrollment of the State fund during 1935 was approximately $2,100,000.

FACTS ABOUT HIGH SCHOOLS.

Considerable space is devoted to high schools. The average daily attendance of those in Alameda county was 88.6, an increase of about 100 over the previous year. The total enrollment of the State fund during 1935 was approximately $2,100,000.

Los Angeles High had an average attendance last year of 123 students. Polytechnic, 108; Pasadena High School, 104; Pomona, 100; Long Beach, 97; Whittier, 95; Santa Monica, 94; Hollywood, 93; and Compton, 92.

On January 1, 1936, the total enrollment of the State High School fund was $1,000,000. On July 1, 1936, it was $1,100,000. On January 1, 1937, it was $1,200,000. On July 1, 1937, it was $1,300,000.

The daily average attendance in the Riverside county High School was 88.6, an increase of about 100 over the previous year. The total enrollment of the State fund during 1935 was approximately $2,100,000.

San Bernardino county made a good showing last year, with a daily average of 88.6, an increase of about 100 over the previous year. The total enrollment of the State fund during 1935 was approximately $2,100,000.

In San Diego county the daily average was 88.6, an increase of about 100 over the previous year. The total enrollment of the State fund during 1935 was approximately $2,100,000.

The average daily attendance at the high schools of San Francisco county was 88.6, an increase of about 100 over the previous year. The total enrollment of the State fund during 1935 was approximately $2,100,000.

The attendance was divided as follows: Commercial, 88; Girls, 88; Low, 88; Mission, 88; and Polytechnic, 88. The total enrollment of the State fund during 1935 was approximately $2,100,000.

The high schools in San Luis Obispo county had a daily average of 88.6, an increase of about 100 over the previous year. The total enrollment of the State fund during 1935 was approximately $2,100,000.

In Santa Barbara county the attendance was 88.6, an increase of about 100 over the previous year. The total enrollment of the State fund during 1935 was approximately $2,100,000.

The following summary of the high schools in 1937: Number entitled to receive State aid, 147; total daily attendance, 88.6; amount apportioned on the one-third basis, $2,100,000; amount apportioned on the two-thirds basis, $2,100,000.

Los Angeles county leads in the number of teachers employed in the kindergarten, primary, grammar and high schools and night schools, having had 304 on the pay roll in 1935. San Francisco had 297; Alameda, 276, and so down the line to Alpine, with only three teachers.

In reckoning the average cost per pupil, Superintendent Hyatt has arrived at the following figures: Los Angeles, $19.57; high schools, $22.12; San Francisco, $22.12; and high schools, $22.12. The average cost per pupil for high school education was in Riverside, $22.12, the highest in the State.

A tabulated statement of amount of expenditures for State education since 1935 shows that expenditures have increased from $22,100 in 1935 to $115,000 in 1936. In 1935, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941, 1942, 1943, 1944, 1945, 1946, 1947, 1948, 1949, 1950, 1951, 1952, 1953, 1954, 1955, 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965, 1966, 1967,
